The Chesapeake Bay Insulator Club

THE CHESAPEAKE BAY INSULATOR CLUB WAS FORMED IN DECEMBER 1988

The object of the club is to promote and encourage the hobby of collecting insulators in the states bordering the Chesapeake Bay, including Maryland, Virginia, Delaware, Pennsylvania, and Washington, DC. The club meets five times a year. In addition to regular meetings, we have two Insulator Shows each year and backyard swap meets. One in March and one in August. A newsletter is also published five times a year. Club members are active collectors of glass and/or porcelain insulators and related items and are happy to share their knowledge with new or experienced collectors.

Club patches are available as well as hats, shirts, and sweatshirts with the club logo. Membership dues are used to assist in paying for the club activities and club administration. The Chesapeake Bay Insulator Club is a non-profit organization.
